MEMPHIS, May 2, 1857. SPRING IS COMING.

BY FRANK MYSTLE. 'Spring is coming! Spring is coming! Don't you hear her in the rills, Trippling gally o'er the valley. Plying o'er the sumpy hills? Nature leaps to meet her coming With her teeming bab'ling throng; ladsome Spring! with low we greet thes With a cheerful voice of song.

Spring is coming! Spring is coming! Enc is in the Southern breeze; Merrity the birds are singing Mattes in the forcal trees. Modest visites are springing From the gladsome earth the while, And the butter-cups and datales Greet her with a lover's smile.

Spring is coming! Spring is coming! ney leaflets venture out; cuts that for months have slumbered, Hasten segward, with a shout. Wanton breezes kies the flowers.

Butterflies are on the wing, Birds have set the day to marry, And invited guests to sing. Spring is coming! Spring is coming!
Joyous beats the pulse of life; . Weary ones almost desponding, Start anew to meet the strife.
Nature's become throbs with pleasure;
Spring has set the captive free;
Karth with all her feeming millions,
Chants the song of Jubilee!
